Welcome to The Vine Bistro

Where French passion meets South African terroir

Located on the southern slopes of the beautiful Simonsberg Mountain and nestled between indigenous fynbos, the land was first granted to Huguenot François Villion in the early 17th, century before passing it to Johan Peter de Villiers in 1812. In 1911 the property was bought by a British family, the Garlicks, who owned it for 92 years before its purchase in 2003 by May-Eliane de Lencquesaing whom previously owned the prestigious Bordeaux chateau, Pichon Longueville Comtesse de Lalande, Pauillac Grand Cru Classé.

The 123 hectare estate currently boasts 54.5 hectares of red varieties, 5.5 of white and 5 hectares of olive groves. 2009 saw the completion of a 6,000 gravity fed wine cellar where, with the help of viticulturist Heinrich Louw, winemaker Luke O’Cuinneagain and consultant Adi Badenhorst, the grapes are lovingly crafted from vine to wine.

Corkage is R65 per 750 ml bottle
